
Trial Membership Regulations

1. A trial membership is not a membership as defined in the Constitution.
2. There is no charge for a trial membership.
3. Trial membership is a precursor to an application for membership and is to give both the applicant and the JVI a chance to determine if the applicant is suitable for membership of JVI.
4. A trial membership is available once only.
5. A trial membership expires automatically after 4 weeks.
6. A trial member may apply for full membership at any time during or after the trial period ends in accordance with the Constitution.
7. The trial membership may be terminated at any time before its automatic expiry by the trial member or the JVI.
8. A trial membership ensures the trial member has insurance cover while participating in training sessions at a JVI registered club.
9. Trial membership does not allow a trial member to participate in JVI events nor to be awarded a JVI judo grade.
10. At the expiry of a trial membership the trial member will be sent an email with instructions on how to become a full JVI member.
